

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

INTRODUCTION.

AS the origin and progress of Guilds already form the subject of several excellent works, it is unnecessary to attempt a dissertation thereupon in these few pages ; the guild we have to deal with was not established till the 15th century, so without endeavouring to trace and explain the objects and usages of Guilds from earlier times, and through different ages, it may be briefly stated that an English Guild of the 15th century was an association of persons banded together for mutual aid, benefit, and protection, and probably formed the origin of Friendly, Provident, Sick, and Burial, Societies ; in cities and large towns there were also Craft Guilds, which though established for similar objects, afforded trade protection besides.

As may be supposed, Guilds varied greatly as to importance and number of members, from a small craft guild composed of a few tradesmen of some particular, or kindred branches of a trade, to a popular religious and social guild, which could boast of several thousand members enlisted from almost every class of society, irrespective of trade or occupation.

The objects of different guilds varied but little, and included chiefly religious worship ; aid in sickness, old age, poverty, losses by fire, water, shipwreck, or wrongful imprisonment ; the visitation of prisoners, and provision of work ; the contributing to all kinds of charitable work, and towards the founding and maintenance of churches, schools, bridges, town walls, &c. ; supplying loans to deserving members ; burying the dead with suitable religious rites ; condoling with mourners, and providing Masses and prayers for the souls of departed members.

Guilds also regularly held social and business meetings, and periodical feasts ; occasionally provided minstrels and players ; and undertook the performance of miracle plays, processions, and pageants ; it is said that the Lord Mayor's Show of London owes its origin to a guild custom.

There is little doubt but that their chief and direct objects were to encourage charity, and useful living : members were admitted upon payment of entrance fees, and taking oaths to observe the rules, and the expenses were supported by donations and annual subscriptions, though many guilds had besides, lands and possessions, which had from time to time been bequeathed to them, and which ultimately proved the downfall of all ; the more important guilds had their halls, (a few of which still remain), where their business and convivial meetings were held; some guilds were important enough to take upon themselves the municipal business of the place.

The rules and ordinances of many guilds are given at some length in Toulmin Smith's work, and some later rules of the Guild of the Holy Cross, Stratford-on-Avon, dated 1443, may be found in the Gentleman's Magazine for 1835. The accounts also of Stratford-on-Avon Guild from 1353 to 1504 have been printed,—much information as to the life and working of guilds may be gathered from the above publications.

THE GUILD OF KNOWLE.

KNOWLE is an ecclesiastical parish, formed in 1859 out of the parish of Hampton-in-Arden. It is situated two miles south east from Solihull, ten north west from Warwick, and ten south east from Birmingham, in the northern division of Warwickshire, on the road from Warwick to Birmingham. In 1811, the population was 998; in 1831, 1120; and in 1891, 1818.

Dugdale, in his account of Hampton-in-Arden, mentions the existence of a chapel at Knowle in the 13th century, but makes no further mention of it under Knowle; it may be noticed that in the bull of Pope Boniface, Walter Cook purposes to found the chapel 'de novo,' which seems to imply that there was already a chapel there. Dugdale says, "About the latter end of Richard II. time, Walter Cook,^a a Canon of Lincoln, bearing a special affection to this place, considering that it stood distant above a mile from the Parish Church (of Hampton) did for the health of his own and his parents' souls, at his proper costs, erect a fair chapel here, with a tower-steeple, and bells, all in his father's own land, to the honour of St. John the Baptist, St. Lawrence the Martyr, and St. Anne; adding also a churchyard thereto, purposing to endow the same chapel with maintenance sufficient for one secular priest to celebrate divine service therein. For performance whereof he obtained a special Bull from Pope Boniface IX. To second which Bull was there a special license granted to the inhabitants here residing by John Burghill,^b Bishop of Coventry and Lichfield, in I. Hen. IV., touching the celebration of divine service therein by any fitting priests. For confirmation of which Chapel so built, together with the church yard before specified, there being a special patent made by King Hen. IV.^c dated the 18th Nov. in the fourth year of his reign, license was thereby granted unto the said Walter Cooke, and Adam Cooke his father, to found and establish a chantry of one or two priests to celebrate divine service perpetually therein. All which being performed, he the same Walter the next year following granted unto the monks of Westminster, and their successors, the advowson and patronage of this chantry.^a But still continuing his wonted affections thereto, obtained a license in 14. Hen. IV.^b that himself, together with (others),^c might found a fraternity and guild in the same chapel of themselves, and others that out of devotion should be content to join with them therein. Neither did he rest here, but within few years after, being advanced to other dignities, for he was also Canon of York, Salisbury, and St. Paul's in London, inciting the Lady Elizabeth, widow of John Lord Clinton, to assist him farther in these his pious intentions, he obtained another license in 4. H. V.^d that she, the said Elizabeth and he, might in this Chapel found a college of ten chantry priests to pray for the good estate of them both during this life, and for the health of their souls, after their departure hence, as also for the souls of their parents and friends and all the faithful deceased, one of which priests to be rector thereof, and to have a common seal for the transacting of all their public business, but I do not find that it was ever endowed with lands and rents so amply as to maintain half that number of priests, for by the survey taken in 26 Henry VIII.^e it appears that there were then but two chantry priests besides the rector, nor above that number in 37 Hen. VIII.,^f at which time the clear value of all the lands and rents thereto belonging, besides reprises, were certified to be xxij^{li} iij^s iij^d.

The lands appertaining to the guild before specified, all lying in several distant places, were then also rated at xxix^{li} xiv^s vij^d per annum, which maintained three chantry priests for the said Guild, daily singing in the said Chapel.

That a multitude of persons, whereof most of good quality, nay some of the great nobility in those days had admittance to be of this Guild is very evident,^g all which in some measure were benefactors thereto, but those I suppose the chief, whose arms or inscriptions to their memory do appear in the windows of the same Chapel, most of whom were neighbours, viz., Brome and Ferrers, sometime of Baddesley Clinton hard by, Sir William Wigston of Wolston, Dabridgecourt of Langdon Hall, The Ailesburies of Edston, and Dr. Laurence Eborall of Balsall, which last mentioned family still continuing, hath for many ages had residence here."

The Church, founded by Cook, is dedicated to SS. John and Anne, and is a beautiful building in the perpendicular style, consisting of a chancel, nave, aisles, and square embattled tower containing three bells. A description of the interior of Knowle Church a century ago, may be found in the Gentleman's Magazine for 1793 (vol. 63) There is also a good general description in Hannett's "Forest of Arden."

WALTER COOK.

The Cook Family had been long resident in the neighbourhood of Knowle; Robert Cook and William Cook are mentioned in the record of a Manor Court held there in the year 1278.^a In the time of Richard II. John Cook of Solihull, & Adam Cook of Knowle, with several other local men were concerned in impounding cattle of one Thomas le Hore of Elmdon.^b Walter Cook was prebendary of Warthill in the Cathedral of York, from 1397, to his death in 1423; (his successor entered Aug 23rd of that year,) prebendary of Faringdon in the Cathedral of Salisbury, by exchange Oct 29th 1400; he resigned in 1422;^c and prebendary of Milton Ecclesia in the Church of Lincoln, from 1415 to 1423;^d he was also prebendary of Holborn in the Church of St. Paul's London, in 1421; he had been treasurer of St. Paul's from 1397 to 1400, which office he resigned. Being appointed executor of Thomas de Evere Dean of St. Paul's, he with others in 1410, founded a chantry within the Chapel of St. Thomas the Martyr, in St. Paul's, for one priest to celebrate divine service for the Soul of the said Thomas, and all the faithful deceased.^e On June 21st, 1417, Walter Cook and John Chitterne, Canons of St. Paul's, had some of the royal plate deposited with them as security, each of them having lent the King (Henry V.) 500 marks;^f from this, and from the number of offices he enjoyed, it may be conjectured that Cook was wealthy, and could well afford to found the Church, Chantries, and Guild, of Knowle. As the manor of Knowle was part of the possessions of the Abbey of Westminster, it was necessary for Cook before founding his chantries, to make arrangements with the Abbot,—accordingly, among others, an agreement was arrived at whereby William, Abbot of Westminster, and the convent of the same place, in consideration of the sum of 300 marks, paid to them by Master Walter Cook, canon of Lincoln, and of the patronage of the Chantry of the Chapel of SS. John Baptist, Lawrence, and Anne, lately established and built by him, in the hamlet of Knoll, Co Warwick, assigned a yearly stipend of ten marks to the chaplain for ever; dated Aug 11th 1404,—to this agreement, which is by indenture tripartite, the conventual seals are appended.^g

At the entrance of the Chancel in Knowle Church lies a circular greystone four feet in diameter, which originally had a circular ledge of brass, and in the centre a scroll and two shields,^h all which have been stolen; tradition says that this is the monument of Walter Cook.ⁱ

MEMBERS.

As to number of members of Knowle Guild, it is roughly estimated, allowing liberally for contraries, that there must have been at one time, when the guild was most popular, over 3000. From 1497 to 1506, though but six years are entered,^a upwards of 3000 members joined, it is presumed that the entire fraternity of the year 1496 may be taken as a set-off for those who discontinued membership during these ten years. It will be noticed that a great number of the Souls of deceased members, (and possibly of many who never were members during earthly life,) are entered in the register as members,^b the annual subscriptions for these were probably kept up by relatives. There are a few entries of receipts of money, particularly in 1506. The sums are mostly iij,^c iiij,^d or xl,^d which was perhaps the annual subscription. "For the good estate of Elizabeth Couper and the Soul of John" the sum is xx^d, but "For Jone Hampton and the Soul of John" the sum is v,^e it may be that Elizabeth paid for prayers only, and that Joan was actually a member. "For the Soul of Margaret Hawkyns" the sum is xij^d

The guild for the most part seems to have been composed of the ordinary people of Warwickshire and districts adjoining,—it is perhaps worth remark, that the parishes west of Knowle, furnished a far greater proportion of members, than those to the east.

It also appears that persons could be members of two, or more, guilds. Thus, John Wright warden of Knowle 1495-6, pays his subscription as member of the Guild of the Holy Cross, Stratford-on-Avon, in 1501-2. The Prior of Studley, too, and John Wagstaff of Shipston, were also members of both these Guilds; Joyce Bekley, Prioress of Catesby, who was admitted a member of Corpus Christi Guild, Coventry, in 1510, appears as a sister of Knowle Guild in 1517.^f

The more influential people began to join about the commencement of the 16th century, names of such personages as the Marquis of Dorset, the Earl of Kent, the Abbots of Evesham, Pershore, and Bordesley, Sir Richard Empson and wife, the Russells of Strensham, and of several other important people of that time, may be found on one page, under the year 1506.

a. It is probable that the omitted year 1501 is included in 1500, and 1505 in 1504, the years 1499 and 1503 seem to be wanting; taken at an average, considering the popularity of the guild at that time, these two years would add over 700 members to the above estimated 3000.

b. This kind of registration may have risen from an ancient custom which obtained in many Monasteries and Religious Houses, viz., that of periodically inscribing the names of deceased brethren upon a roll, which was despatched by special messenger upon a round to all those monastic establishments having guildship with them, where, at each place, according to compact, solemn masses and prayers were at once offered for the souls of the departed.

c. Joyce Bykeley, the last prioress of Catesby, whose exemplary life, and perfect administration of her convent, forced from those visitors whose business was to accuse and confiscate, a letter full of praise and recommendations to the chancellor; she received a pension of £20. 28. SEALS OF THE COLLEGE AND GUILD OF KNOWLE.^a*Seal of the College of Knowle.*

THE Seal of the Collegiate Church of Knowle, made probably late in the 14th or early in the 15th century, is a pointed oval 3in. \times 1 $\frac{7}{8}$ in; it bears upon it the figure of St. Anne teaching the Virgin, in a canopied niche, with tabernacle work at the sides, in base three shields of arms, centre, a rose en soliel, for Knoll, or Knollys; left and right two Church bells in fesse, 'for a rebus on the word Knoll,'^b the inscription is

† Sigillum † comune † capelle † ad † Knoll †

Seal of the Guild of Knowle.

THE Seal of the Guild is 15th century work, pointed oval, 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ in. \times 1 $\frac{7}{8}$ in., in three canopied niches, St. Anne instructing the Virgin between St. John the Baptist holding the Agnus Dei on the left, and St. Lawrence with book and gridiron on the right. In base in two niches with round headed arches, two ecclesiastics kneeling in prayer with masonry at the sides. The inscription, with cable border, is

DISSOLUTION.

THE SURVEY OF 26 HEN. VIII.

The small and uncertain tributes, which had hitherto found their way from most Monastic, and other Religious Establishments, to Rome, were in the 26 Hen. VIII changed by statute into fixed, and greatly increased, annual charges, payable to the crown. The king thus suddenly becoming possessed of a new revenue, immediately ordered a general ecclesiastical survey throughout the kingdom; commissioners were thereby authorized to enquire into the value of Spiritual and temporal effects of all ecclesiastical persons and bodies, the commissions were dated 26 Jan. 26 Hen. VIII, (1534-5) and were returnable on the Octaves of Holy Trinity next, which would be the week following May 23, 27 Hen. VIII, (1535). The report of this survey has been printed, and is generally known as the King's Book, or Valor Ecclesiasticus. It will be noticed that the Knowle Guild Register ends in the year 27 Hen. VIII; the entries for that year are very few, compared with those of previous years; it is probable that the visit of the surveyors had the effect of staying the further enlistment of members,—but the end was not then, the guild was in existence at least 13 years later.

Although these Commissioners call this establishment 'The College of Knoll, or Guild,' the guild appears to have escaped this survey, indeed, there is nothing specified in the statute relative to Guilds, and it is very probable that the words 'sive Gilda,' were added to this report at a later time.

THE SURVEY OF 37. HEN. VIII.

The monasteries and other religious establishments, with all their estates, having been seized upon by the king, attention was next called to Chantries, &c., and by the statute 37 Hen. VIII. cap. 4. All Colleges, Freechapels, Chantries, Hospitals, Fraternities, Brotherhoods, Guilds, &c., with their lands, &c., were declared to be the possessions of the king and his heirs for ever.

In the same year a survey, much more searching than those which preceded or followed, was made; the instructions issued for this survey will illustrate many points of the return.

* A translation of the foregoing report appears in Hannett's "Forest of Arden."

INJUNCTIONS FOR A VISITATION OF CHANTRIES.

To the parson, vicar, curate, chanter, priest, churchwardens, and two of the most honest persons of the parish of (blank) being no founders, patrons, donors, leasees, nor farmers of the promotions or corporations hereafter recited, nor of any part thereof, and to four of them at the least.

First ye shall make diligent search and inquiry, immediately upon the receipt hereof, of the number; and how many chantries, hospitals, colleges, free chapels, fraternities, brotherhoods, guilds, and salaries, or wages of stipendiary priests, being perpetuities now charged, or that ought to be charged, or chargeable, and not chargeable to the payment of tenths and first fruits, which be within your church and parish.

Also you shall enquire of the orders, ordinances, kinds, qualities, degrees, uses and abuses, or misuses, conditions, estates, and necessities, of and concerning all and every the said chantries, &c. and other the premises, and by what names, surnames, corporations or titles they and every of them be taken or known, and to what intents, purposes and deeds of charity they and every of them were founded ordained and made, and ye shall take into your hands, and also bring with you, at the day of your certificate, the foundations, and all other writings which you have or can attain, for the true declaration and proof of the same.

Also you shall enquire how and what manner or sort the revenues and profits of the lands and possessions of all the aforesaid promotions, and every of them, be used, expended, employed, or bestowed.

Also how many of the said promotions be parish-churches.

Also how far space or distance the said chantries and chapels be and stand from the parish churches of the parishes wherein they do stand.

Also ye shall enquire of all the houses, lands, tenements, rents, possessions, and revenues, united, annexed, or appertaining to the aforesaid chantries, hospitals, guilds and other promotions abovesaid, and to every of them, and of the yearly value thereof, and shall make a true and perfect rental or other book thereof.

And ye shall enquire of all the resolute, deductions, and yearly payments or charges, going forth of the premises, and of every part thereof, and shall certify the same in writing, that is to say, for every chantry or other the aforesaid promotions severally by itself, and over this, to bring with you all such rentals of the same, and every of them, as ye have or may attain or come by.

Also ye shall enquire of all the lands, tenements, possessions and hereditaments, which were or be united, annexed, or pertaining to the aforesaid promotions or corporations, or to any of them, which at any time since the 4th day of February, in the 27th year of the king's majesty's reign did appertain or belong to them, or any of them, and of the goods, jewels, or ornaments lately pertaining or belonging to the same.

Also ye shall enquire how many of the aforesaid chantries, hospitals, guilds, and other the aforesaid promotions and corporations, or what lands, tenements, or parcels thereof, sithence the 4th day of February, in the 27th year of the reign of our foresaid sovereign lord, been or have been dissolved, purchased, or by any other means or ways taken, entered unto or obtained by any of the king's majesty's subjects, by their own authorities without the king's license. And ye shall enquire of the lands, tenements, rents, and hereditaments thereof, and of the yearly value of the same and of all the goods and ornaments of the same, and of the yearly resolute, deductions, and payments going forth of the same, and shall make a true rental or book thereof, and shall certify the same particularly.

Also ye shall enquire of all the plate, jewels, ornaments, goods, and chattels, merely and truly pertaining or belonging to all the aforesaid promotions or corporations, and to every of them severally, and shall make one true inventory thereof, with the value of the same, and of every parcel thereof, that is to say, in true weight of all parcels of plate, chalices and other, and the price or value of all other ornaments, goods or chattels, and in whose hands or possession the same be or remain.

Also finally ye shall make ready and finish your certificate in writing before the (blank) of all and singular the premises, and of every article abovesaid severally and not in gross; or in one whole article, as ye will answer and be sworn to the same, and that you and every of you being resident or remaining within the said parish, shall sign and seal the same, and ye shall send the same your certificate sealed unto us at such day and place as shall hereafter be assigned unto you, by one of the most honest of the aforesaid churchwardens, and by all the incumbents of the chantries, chapels, hospitals, guilds and promotions aforesaid, if there be but one incumbent in the said promotions, or any of them; and if there be more incumbents than one in the said promotions, or any of them being of one foundation, that then one of the said incumbents, together with the said honest churchwarden, and other incumbents, being but one of one foundation, as is aforesaid. Foreseeing always, that your proceedings and certificate of the premises and every part thereof, be executed, ordered and done, with all diligence, substantially and truly, that the same may so appear unto us at our repair to view and survey the premises, as ye will then have condign thanks for the same, and avoiding your extreme damage, which may ensue of the contrary.

^a. Sir Richard Gresham (father of the celebrated Sir Thomas, founder of the Royal Exchange), was a large buyer of Monastic lands at the time of the Dissolution, and would no doubt purchase the premises in St. Lawrence Lane. Though possessed of immense wealth, and many large estates in several counties, it seems that this Sir Richard actually resided here in the latter part of his life, for he by his will directs that his body may be buried in the Church of St. Lawrence, Jewry, and leaves the house he dwells in to his wife for life. She dying a few years later, by her will also directs that she may be buried in the same Church, of which she states she is a parishioner.—See Gresham Wills in Mis. Gen. & Her. vol. II new. ser. 1877, p. 140 & seq.

During the Commonwealth the Fee Farm Rents of Warwickshire were sold to Thomas Lane of Coventry, gent, who, at his death in 1656, bequeathed them to charitable uses. They seem, however, to have been re-confiscated to the Crown, upon the Restoration. The following Knowle Guild properties (identical with above), were included in the sale to Lane.

Henry Makepeas, master of the Guild, had leased the estate at Erdington (or part of it), for a term of 40 years, in 24th (14th?) Henry VIII. to William Blyethe of Erdington, the property is described as—a house, an orchard, a close called Wrak, ten ridges of land in 'Harowe filde,' a half-day's math of meadow in Bromford meadow, at the end of the Pipe close, then in the holding of Robert Higginbotham.—*See Mid. THE SURVEY OF 1 ED. VI.

The Chantries and Guilds, though brought thus under the power of the king, were not immediately dissolved; one reason for delay may have been the saving clauses in favour of those priests, and others, who had but lately had stipends and pensions secured to them by charters under seal, and payable from lands, &c., hitherto under their own control; however it may have been, a few months later, the king died; and in the first year of his successor, Edward VI. (1547), on Dec. 6th, a bill for the confiscation of Chantries, Guilds, &c., was brought in to the House of Lords; it was read a second time on the 12th, and a third time on the 13th, and though much opposed, was passed and sent down to the House of Commons, where it met with great opposition by several courageous Burgesses, who represented that the boroughs for which they served, could not maintain their churches, or public works of the Guilds and Fraternities if the rents belonging to them were given to the king. This was chiefly done by the Burgesses of Lynn and Coventry, who were so active, that the whole House was much set against that part of the bill which affected the Guild Lands; therefore those who managed that House for the Court, took these off by an assurance, that their guild lands should be restored to them; and so they desisted from their opposition, and the bill passed.* By it, (1 Ed. VI. cap. 14), it was enacted that all Colleges, Freechapels, Chantries, Hospitals, Fraternities, Brotherhoods, Guilds, &c., existing within 5 years preceding that Parliament, and not in the actual possession of the late or present king, should hereafter be in the possession of the king, his heirs, &c. All Brotherhoods or Guilds, and their possessions, to be vested in the king; Commissioners to be appointed under seal, with power to survey, &c., and amongst other things, to assign yearly pensions for life, to Deans, Priests, or poor persons, dependent upon dissolved Colleges.

* See Burnet.

THE MANUSCRIPT.

The original MS. is a thick octavo volume, bound in wooden boards covered with leather. It contains 239 leaves of vellum, paged on one side only; at the commencement are fastened two letters from Mr. Caldecott addressed to Mr. Hamper, one presenting him with the book, the other explaining where it was purchased, &c. It is stated on page 1 that the register was begun on the feast of S. Anne MCCCC vij., and in the 14th year of the reign of King Henry IV. As the regnal year is the same as that in which the Guild was founded, viz., 1412, it is, without doubt, the year intended, and the x. in the date, has been miscopied into v.—but in disposing of one error, we fall upon another, for there was no St. Anne's day (July 26th) in 14th Hen. IV., which year commenced 30 Sept. 1412, and the king died 20 Mar. following;—furthermore, whenever the book was founded, the present volume does not give entries of members previous to 1451. The names of Thomas Huddesforde, William Warde and Katherine his wife, and William Weyle, are given as founders of "this book and brethren and sister of this place." The admittances of these would probably occur before 1451, but a Thomas Hodesforde appears as member in 1460, and a Thomas Huddisford as master of the guild in 1468; Juliana Ward and her husband 1460, and Juliana Warde and for the soul of William Warde, 1461, also occur; and a William Weile appears as master, 1464, but without further proof, these cannot be identified as the donors of the register, though there is some probability as to Huddesforde and Weyle being so.

From fol. 1 to 6 is a calendar, similar to those to be seen in old missals; and about the middle of the book are 19 leaves, containing the service of the Mass, commencing with several variations of the 'preface.'

It is roughly estimated that the book contains entries of some 15,000 members between 1451 and 1535; it is the work of several scribes, and the headings for some of the years, are richly illuminated.

The first 100 leaves, 1451 to 1502, have not been bound up in correct order of date, and it will be noticed that several years are wanting; some of these omissions may be accounted for; the same master may have been chosen for two or three consecutive years, and in such cases the scribe would not perhaps consider fresh headings necessary,—headings may have been omitted through neglect; this seems likely in the gaps 1469-76 and 1504-6, from the unusual number of entries; further, it must be remembered, that a regnal year ran into two calendar years; lastly, it is very possible that the sheets for some of the years have been lost. It may be asked—Where is the register from 1412 to 1451?

It is tolerably evident that the book was bound in its present binding about the time the disorder of dates ceases, and regularity begins, viz., 1504, fol. 128, or nearly the middle of the volume.

As to the ownership, or whereabouts, of the register, after the dissolution of the guild, it may be conjectured that it was hidden away for a time. Its owner, or concealer, would run some risk till near the end of Elizabeth's reign,—a generation later, perhaps, its possessor would venture to bring it into light,—and about 1630-40 Dugdale mentions it as being in the possession of Sir Simon Archer of Umberslade.

Though nearly a century had rolled by, the book was still within 5 miles of Knowle. Sir Simon's grandmother was a daughter of Sir Robert Townsend, and it seems somewhat significant that at the time of the sudden cessation of the Register in 1535, its undoubted proper custodian was "Master John Townesend, Rector or Warden," of Knowle.

The next we hear of this volume, is, that about the year 1790, it was bought for 3 guineas, of an obscure bookseller, named Vanderberg, living in a small street near St. Margaret's Church, Westminster. It is difficult to form an idea how it came there, or where it had been for the previous 150 years, though its presence in London may be accounted for, by the fact that Sir Simon Archer was a most fervent antiquary, and possibly brought, or sent, the volume to Town, for some purpose in connection with his researches. However, as explained in his letter, Mr. Caldecott purchased the book, and after some years, presented it to Mr. William Hamper, of Birmingham, after whose death, it passed into the possession of William Staunton, Esq., of Longbridge, whose collection was acquired by the Birmingham Public Libraries Committee in 1875.

In 1879, the Register narrowly escaped destruction by the disastrous fire which destroyed the Library, it being found amongst some salvage on the following day, though many other unique and valuable manuscripts and records, with which it had been kept, were totally lost.

* There has been no intention, on the part of the transcriber, to tamper with the errors of grammar or spelling, with which the text of the Register abounds; the endeavour has been, rather, to adopt and preserve all its peculiarities, and to produce, as far as practicable, a faithful and literal copy of the original.

The following are examples, extended and translated, of some of the usual, (and most of the unusual), entries in the Register :—

TRANSLATION OF THE INDULGENCE OF POPE BONIFACE IX

INDULGENCE OF ST. ANNE, MOTHER OF MARY, OF KNOLL.

BONIFACE the Bishop, Servant of the Servants of God, to all the faithful of Christ who shall view the present letters, health and apostolic blessing. Although He of whose gift it comes that He may be served worthily & laudably by his faithful people, of the abundance of his compassion which exceeds the merits and desires of his supplicants, (&) repays to those well-serving Him much greater things than they are able to deserve, yet nevertheless desiring to render to the Lord an acceptable people, & a follower of good works, we invite those faithful to please Him, as it were, with certain alluring gifts, that is to say, with indulgences and remissions, that thereby they may be rendered fitter for divine grace. Forasmuch as on the part of our beloved son Walter Cook, canon of Lincoln, it having of late been declared to us that, whereas the town of Knoll, of Lichfield Diocese, standing within the parish of the parish church of the town of Hampton, of the said diocese, is distant from the same town of Hampton by one mile or more, He burning with the fervour of pious devotion, & considering of his own & his parents' salvation, and desiring by a happy commerce, to change earthly things into celestial, & transitory into eternal, proposed to found, de novo, out of the goods given to him by God, a certain Chapel, with Churchyard, belfry & bell, in honour, & under the name of SS. John the Baptist, & Lawrence the Martyr, & St. Anne, on the land of the same parents, being in the same town of Knoll, & to endow (the same) for one secular priest to be appointed there, as occasion requires, & who in the divine offices, will serve the Lord competently, with the condition, that henceforth there may be, as occasion requires, in the said chapel, baptismal fonts, in which may be baptised infants, who from time to time may be born in the town of Knoll aforesaid, and in the same churchyard may be buried the bodies of the dead from time to time in the same town of Knoll, although hitherto the sacraments of baptism and ecclesiastic sepulture have been accustomed to be ministered, to infants born, & to the dead, from time to time, in the same town of Knoll, at the same Parish Church; We to the same Walter by himself, or by his heirs, if by chance in the meantime he should die, have by our letters, granted a faculty for perfecting the premises, & other opportune things, as in the letters themselves, more fully it is contained. Desiring therefore that the aforesaid Chapel, after it has been built & consecrated as aforesaid, may be frequented, & also maintained with suitable honours, & that the faithful themselves may flock thither to it more freely, for the purpose of devotion, to the end that henceforth they may there behold themselves refreshed by the gift of heavenly grace; Of the mercy of Almighty God, and relying upon the authority of the blessed Peter and Paul his Apostles, to all truly penitent, confessed, & contrite, who, on the festivities of the Nativity, Circumcision, Epiphany, Resurrection, Ascension, and Body of Our Lord Jesus Christ, & Pentecost, also on the feasts of the Nativity, Annunciation, Purification, & Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary, and the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, & of the Apostles Peter & Paul, and Anne, & Laurence, aforesaid, & of the dedication of the Chapel itself; and on the solemnity of All Saints, and throughout the Octaves of those feasts of the Nativity, Epiphany, Resurrection, Ascension, and Corpus Christi, & Nativity & Assumption of the Blessed Mary, also the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, & of the Apostles Peter and Paul aforesaid, and throughout six days immediately following the feast of Pentecost ;—devoutly shall have visited annually the Chapel aforesaid, after it has been founded & consecrated, & shall have given aid to the maintenance of such, that is to say, on each of the festivals and solemnity, by Apostolic authority, we mercifully release seven years & seven times forty days ; but to those who shall have visited annually the said Chapel on the days of Octaves, and the six days aforesaid, and contributed to the maintenance of such, as aforesaid, a hundred days,—of penances enjoined to them. We will moreover, that if any other indulgence shall have been granted by us, to last for ever, or for a certain time not yet elapsed, to those visiting the said chapel after another manner, or contributing to its construction, or maintenance, or fabric, or after another manner bestowing pious alms there, or otherwise, then we annul it, & make it void, & will it to be of no strength or moment. Given at Rome at St. Peter's the 18th of the Calends of December, in the [A.D. 1398] ninth year of our pontificate.*

* The translator is indebted to the Rev. A. L. Chattaway, of St. Joseph's, Birmingham, for pointing out that ~~two~~ Indulgences are offered by the above document,—also for other hints which have helped to make it intelligible. Dugdale's summary of this Indulgence is singularly misleading.

REGESTERIUM DE KNOLLE in Com. Warr.

(Richard Cox.)*

This seems by some parts of its Contents to be one of those Books, w^a, under the name of Antiphoners, Grailes, Processionals Manuals, Legends, Pies, Portuasses, Primers in Latine or English, Couchers, Journals, Ordinals, or other books or writing whatsoever, heretofore used for the service of the Church, written or printed in the English or Latine Tongue, other than such as are, &c., set forth by the King's Majesty, are by this Act "for abolishing and putting away," or directed to be, "clearly and utterly abolished extinguished and forbidden to be used and kept within any of the King's dominions:" and all persons, willingly retaining, and not delivering up such books, to their borough or parish officers, to be by them delivered to the Ordinary to be immediately burnt, or otherwise defaced and destroyed; are made liable, first to pecuniary mulcts, (viz., first xx^s and then iv^d), and for the third offence to imprisonm^t at the King's pleasure.

Dugdale seems to have given an accurate account of this College, in his Warwickshire, Vol. 2, p. 959. Ed. 2.

THE GIFT OF HIS FRIEND,

Thomas Caldecott, Esq.,

June 23rd, 1822.

* Old writing:—the rest of the writing here is modern.

[Then follow two letters fastened in the book].

Dartford, June 23rd, 1822.

MY DEAR SIR,

Altho' I could wish an History of Warwicksh. from your hand, not aware that there is another capable of doing it justice, yet as I know your health is not entire, I neither wish you to undertake it, or send you the book you receive herewith upon any such conditions. I know, only, that by begging your acceptance of it, I put it into hands that can make some use of it, and that in mine, who purchased it in the expectation that it might afford some hint respecting Shakespeare, it would be as if it had been buried, or suffered the fate to which it was consigned, —been burnt.

From their ashes, the Brethren and Sisters of St. Anne of Knolle may in your hands, in some form spring again into life ; at any rate, it is a curious document, and will afford you some amusement. Many of them cannot remain, and from its locality, it will carry with you, some interest. Our friend Hakerill agrees that you are most worthy to own it, and has been so good as to undertake to convey it to you. I propose to spend six weeks in Warwickshire, this summer, and may chance to fall in your way, and so for the present, Vale and frueere !

I am, my dear Sir,

Your faithful and obedient Servant,

THOS. CALDECOTT.

WM. HAMPER, Esq.

[2nd Letter].

Leamington, July 19, 1822.

DEAR SIR,

It is a high satisfaction to me, that I have supplied you with a book, with which you are much gratified. It is no inconsiderable addition to the satisfaction, thence received, that I have passed it into hands capable of applying and bringing into use, its Contents ; with me it had been as a dead letter. How unworthy a possessor of it I was, you will instantly perceive, when you know how incurious I was, respecting it, and how unable to return any thing like a satisfactory answer to your inquiry.

Of an obscure bookseller of the name of Vanderberg, living in a small street near St. Margaret's Church, Westminster, (the poor man some years after destroyed himself), I bought the first editions of all the small poems of Shakespeare ; that of Venus and Adonis, was not at that time known to exist, tho' Steevens and Malone speak of it, as once having had Being. He had cut up a Vol. of Old Poetry, put neat paper covers upon each, and priced them at 4s. and 5s. a-piece. I filled my pockets, and made a rich Harvest, and this being lore in which I took a large interest, inquired whence they came. He bought them, he said, at a bookseller's sale. Finding him so little acquainted with the value of these things, I thought him worth visiting, and told him he would for anything of this sort, find me a ready Chap. The only other article

I ever had of him, was your St. Anne of Knowle. He brought it me and said he did not know whether it was much in my way, but he thought it curious. I said it certainly was so, and as such I would have it,* (you know my further reasons, viz., Warwicksh. and Shakespeare), and he then said he hoped I should not think 3 gs. too much. I do not think it probable that further inquiry would have been attended by any result of consq̄ce, as tracing or leading to any discovery of the hands thro' which it had passed. Chance, Accident, or Theft may have thrown it in his way. If I had had zeal or a proper spirit and ardour, I should hardly have found in him Intelligence, and that which he could or would have communicated, would have led to little or nothing.

I have found so much benefit from these Waters and like them so well (I am on horse-back, too, every fair morning, before six, and generally at half after six in the evening) that I am unwilling to quit them, even to go to Deritend, and I catch at your saying, that you shall be at the Assises, till which time, I have therefore determined to protract my stay here, where, if I have the pleasure of seeing you, I beg to add, that in the small house I occupy, I have three very good spare beds. Tho' I shall hope also to see you at Dartford, as I every year visit Warwickshire, I will undertake to pay my Respects at Deritend House, another summer.

I am now to return you my thanks for your communications, and have been working in, as not of diminutive importance, what you are pleased to denominate your Note-lets. Should it fall in with your convenience to let me see you here, you will perhaps be good enough to apprise me, on what day I may expect you.

I am, my dear Sir,

Yours very truly,

THOS. CALDECOTT.
